ROTTWEIL GAME EDITION – developed for game-specific requirements

Fürth, Germany. ROTTWEIL GAME EDITION was launched as a resounding success in 2017. This year, the range will be further expanded with the following products:
4x ROTTWEIL GAME EDITION caliber 20/70
1x ROTTWEIL GAME EDITION PARTRIDGE caliber 12/70

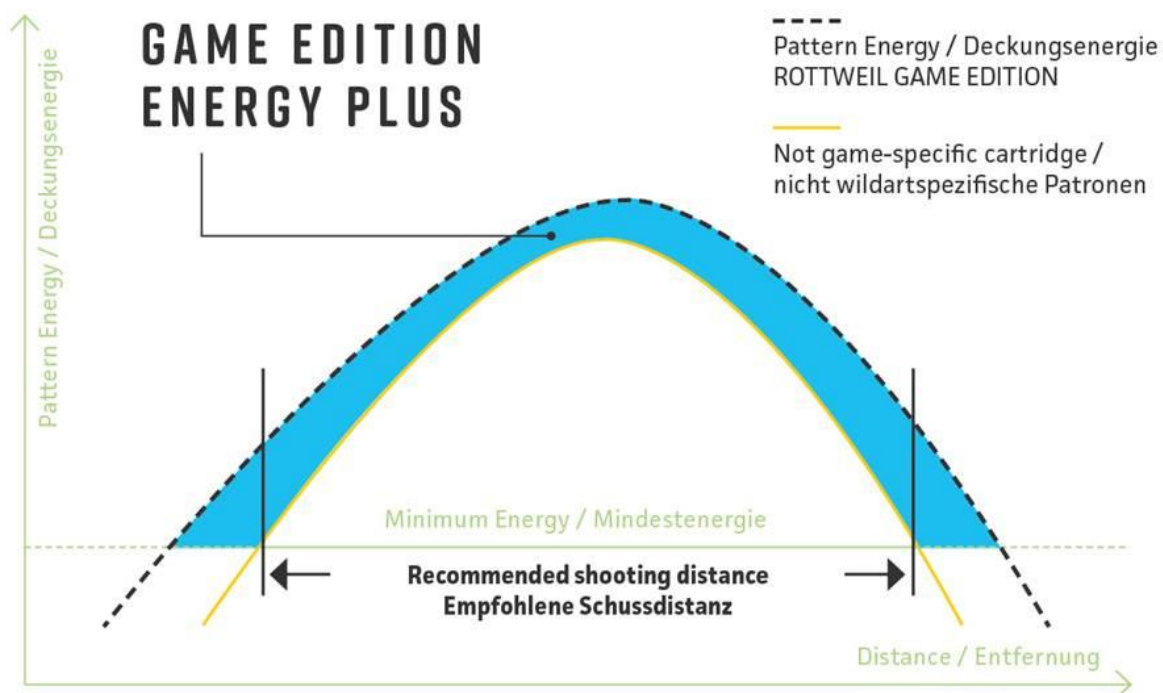

The caliber 20 is currently undergoing something of a renaissance, as the lower weight and superior control of the shotgun combine to make firing easier. ROTTWEIL is going with the trend then with its launch of the GAME EDITION in caliber 20. Cartridges specially designed for the quarry in question are available in this caliber for DUCK, PIGEON, PHEASANT and WOODCOCK.

The range is also being extended to include a special 12/70 cartridge for hunting red-legged partridge, grey partridge and ptarmigan (according to the region).

ROTTWEIL GAME EDITION shotshells have power levels and energy distributions that have been optimized for hunting particular species of small game as in the product names above. They deliver a PLUS of game-specific pattern energy at short, middle and long shooting distances and thus guarantee the best possible success in small game hunting.

ENERGY GRAPHICS

However, the advantages of the GAME EDITION cartridges over others that are not game-specific are not limited to the killing power for specific game, as these cartridges also stand out from the crowd visually. Not only does the new look of the shotshells and the packaging catch the eye with attractive illustrations of the game species to be hunted, this also guides the consumer in buying the right ammunition.
